G A R monument, located in the center of the small square directly ahead as one enters the old (west) part of the cemetery. The square and the monument are set on the diagonal:

- (NE) In memory of the unknown dead that fell in the Civil War of 1861 to 1865 G A R
- (SE) Erected by Gen. Bailey Womans Relief Corps No. 120 Girard Kan 1892 G A R
- (SW) G A R
- (NW) G A R

The index of surnames includes both cemeteries, old and new. In the old cemetery the stones are listed by section and lot number, see map following. Where curbs and gravel paths once existed, the grass in late summer is brown, showing clearly the boundaries of the lots, and making it possible to copy by lot number, even where the lots are very irregular in shape. In the new cemetery we did not attempt to show lot numbers, but copied by sections, beginning with lot 1 in each section, and following through in order of sequence as described on the sketch of the cemetery plat, following.

OLD CEMETERY

- p. 77 Mary Frances, wife of L. F. Crawford b 4-28-1833 d 2-2-1869.
History records that she was the first person buried in the Girard cem.
- p. 111"Charles H. Strong 1828-1912. Cemetery laid out by Dr. C. H. Strong 1868"

Two stones show death dates previous to the existence of this cemetery, so apparently were moved from another earlier burial place, or are in error:

- p. 24 John McCloud b 7-9-1785 d 5-8-1867
p. 82 M. J. Ross b 8-4-1864 d 8-14-1864

Other early burials noted:

- p. 62 Mary I. dau of J.D. & M.L.Baker b 9-20-1867 d 11-30-1869
p. 56 John K. Culbertson d 2-9-1870 aged 28-10-10
p. 58 Adam Keys d 5-22-1870 aged 59-6-11
p. 109 Eliz. E. d 9 -10-1869; Sarah I. d 9-22-1869, children of H.M.&B.R.Scott
In addition to John McCloud b 1785 (above), we found these who were born before 1800:
p. 2 Eugenio Kincaid d 4-3-1883 aged 86-2-24
p. 20 Philip Strahl 1799-1874
p. 57 Amy wife of Samuel Wood d 9-23-1870 aged 73

One who lived past 100 years:

- p. 119 Lydia Elliott 1821-1922

NEW CEMETERY

- p. 151 Eugene Thomas Sourdry 1843-1925
It is told that he owned the land where this cemetery was platted, and was the first person to be buried in it.
- We note all these burials which predate the cemetery, apparently they were moved:
- p. 147 Christine Miller 1907-1908
p. 150 Joanna Bever 1844-1918; Clara B. Coester 1891-1924

GIRARD, KANSAS, CEMETERY, new addition E of public road.

Located in SW cor of Sec. 24, Twp. 29S. Rge. 23E.

Plat in city office dated Aug. 12 1925

This is a rough drawing of the new cemetery, for the purpose of locating the relative positions of the 15 sections, and is not intended as an accurate copy. In sections 4 and 12, the lots are one row wide and numbered from 1 to 11 in order from N to S. In the other sections, lots are numbered in rows from the NE cor to the west, then back east on the next row south, then west again on next row south, etc.etc. On this rough map, the number of lots on each side of each section are marked, so the general position of a lot can be seen by using the above information.

GERARD O'NEILL, older part west of county road, located on SE cor. of Sect. 23, Twp. 29 S, Rge. 23 E.

SECTION #1 Upon entering the cemetery, the road divides around a small square, set diagonally, where Memorial Day services are held. To the southwest of this square is a large oval-shaped section, long east and west, which is Section #1. The map shows the lots in the east and central part to be in a most unusual design, so that the stones could not be copied in rows, or in any very logical order. Actually, this section can be divided into 3 general areas: The east part being the smallest, and the central and west parts being about equal size. The eastern part consists of 12 large lots, the first 8 of which begin to the SW of the central square, and follow in a semi-circle to the SE and back to SW, then lots 9-12 fill in the center from S to N. An aisle separates this area from the central portion of the section, where the lots are in a "crazy-quilt" design, impossible to describe. Another aisle separates the central from the west portion of the section, and in the west part the lots are in straight rows.

Eastern part of Section #1, lots 1-12:

Section II This section is generally circular in shape and lies NW of the "square" where Memorial Services are held, which is directly ahead as one enters the cemetery. The shape & numbering of the lots is difficult to follow, but lot # 1 begins at the NE part of the circle, thence S to lot 8, thence N to Lot 19, and back to S. again, moving to the west, and ending with Lot # 60. A sub-division in the southwest "corner" of this section contains 12 lots in a circle, each lot shaped like a piece of pie. Originally there was a tool house in the center of this smaller circle, but when it was removed, the part where it stood was then divided among the 12 lots surrounding it, many years ago.

SECTION IV

This section is at the left as one enters the cemetery. It is bounded on the east and south by county roads. Near the center of the north part, there is a circular space, which on the old maps is marked "Grant". (A similar space in Sect. 5 is marked "Lincoln") It appears this space may have been meant for a statue. The size and shape of the surrounding lots varies greatly, and the numbering of the lots is rather difficult to follow, but we have attempted to copy by lot number. There are 77 lots in this section.

In the center space marked "Grant" are 2 stones:

SECTION V

This section is at the right as one enters the cemetery, immediately behind the caretakers building. It is bounded on the east by the county road, and on the north by the north limit of the cemetery. Near the center of the south part, there is a circular space, which on the old maps is marked "Lincoln". This space may have been meant for a statue, but has been used as an ordinary lot. The size and shape of the lots surrounding the circle varies greatly, and the numbering is rather difficult to follow, but we have attempted to copy by lot number. There are 85 lots in this section.

In the center space marked "Lincoln" are these stones:

SECTION 7

This section is the southwest part of the cemetery. The lots were number d 1 to 91 on the older map, and later additional lots numbered 92 to 144 were laid off farther south and west. Lot # 1 begins in the northeasterly part, and proceeds back and forth, north and south, to the west, ending with lot 91 in the NW corner of this section. Lots # 120 to 144 are in a long row west to east, and south of the driveway near the south edge of the cemetery—they being the only lots between this driveway and the public road to the south, except for the 11 lots in Sect. 8.

(Note: Here begins the long single row of lots along the south side of the cem. between the southernmost E-W road and the public road. The numbering runs from west to east, and one map showed the numbers to be 117 to 144, excluding 119; since this seems to repeat, we think the numbers should begin with 120. However, it appears there is enough space that these could be numbered from 118 on; therefore we list them in that order, repeating # 118 & 119, copying from W to E. We feel certain of correct numbering from # 124 on.)

Section 8

This section, about midway along the south side of the cemetery, consists of 11 lots, numbered from east to west, between the southernmost east-west driveway and the public road. We find the lots seem to be in proportion to the map, but apparently do not line up, according to the map, with Sect. 1 across the driveway to the north. A later addition to Sect. 7 shows lots # 142, 143 & 144 to be almost on top of Lot # 11 in this Sect. 8, so refer to both sections for these particular lots.

UNMAPPED AREA IN NORTHWEST CORNER, this is longer north-south and rectangular in shape. One old map showed all or part of this to be the "Potters Field" where the poor who could not afford lots were buried. It is evident from the number of sunken places that there are many unmarked graves here. Since we found no map, we could not copy by lot numbers, therefore we began at the SE corner and copied to the north, then back from N to S on the next row W, etc. Since the rows do not appear to be regular, they were difficult to follow. The northwest portion has very few stones, but in the southeast part there are some fine stones which appear to be on measured lots, so at least part of this area has probably been surveyed.
